

Power up productivity with the GitHub Business Plan

From startups to enterprises, GitHub is how teams around the world build software. We've built a platform that's made to grow with your goals, but every team's path comes with a few growing pains.

Our Business Plan extends the flexibility and functionality of GitHub with features that minimize administrative challenges and security risks as your team scales. So you can focus on building your business—and leave the rest to us.

Why upgrade?

SECURE INNOVATION

As teams grow, it gets more difficult and risky to keep track of employee access, especially if you're keeping track manually. With the GitHub Business Plan, you'll get industry-standard tools like SAML that make it easier to keep your code safe, and data-powered security alerts that proactively find known-vulnerabilities in your code.

CONNECTED ORGANIZATIONS

Whether you've got multiple paid plans in your organization or your team was acquired by another team who uses GitHub, our Business Plan makes it easy to connect instances. This helps your team streamline billing, create company-wide security policies, and search across GitHub organizations.

GUARANTEED STABILITY

When your business is growing, you don't have time to wait for your help tickets to move through a support queue that serves millions of other people. With our Business Plan's 99.95% uptime SLA and dedicated Support Team, you can count on stable access and fast fixes. And if you need even faster response times, our Premium Support offering has you covered 24/7.

You're in good company

Questions about using GitHub? We're here to help.

✉ sales@github.com

☎ 1.877.448.4820